Margaret Wanhoji retires as Head of Starehe Girls' Centre. We welcome Sister Jane Sorita as the new Director
We celebrate Margaret Wanhoji's leadership.

Starehe Girls' Centre announced that Margaret was retiring as Director at the start of 2016.

Margaret has led Starehe Girls' Centre to great success since the school opened its doors on 12th February 2005. I'm sure you will join us at StareheUK in thanking Margaret for her leadership and hard work as well as her devotion to educating young women in Kenya.

We welcome Sister Jane Soita as the new Director in January 2016. Sister Jane has been involved at the Centre since the school first opened its doors in 2005. She was a teacher at the Centre until leaving to work at another school before re-joining in February 2015.

We would like to thank all who have supported the Starehe Centres and aided Margaret and the school to have far-reaching impact on students and their communities. We thank you for continuing your support to ensure the school continues to provide a first class education alongside a safe and secure home for bright children from severely disadvantaged backgrounds.

Building the future of Starehe Girls' Centre with new donation
Independent Franchise Partners help support health and future physicists at Starehe Girls'.

We are thrilled to receive a very generous pledge from Independent Franchise Partners, LLP, a London-based asset management firm, who build on their support for the school to fund the development of the clinic and a new physics laboratory at Starehe Girls' Centre.

Their significant pledge builds on the healthy environment at the school and invests in the future careers of leading scientists.

The donation was made in recognition of contribution of Paras Dodhia, a retiring partner of the firm, who introduced Independent Franchise Partners, LLP several years ago to the work of Starehe Girls' Centre.

With construction at the school set to commence later this year, we look forward to sharing the progress of the building with you.

We are sure you will join us in thanking all the partners and staff at Independent Franchise Partners, LLP for their generous and kind donation.
